

WINSLOW RETIRES

Navy's Old Sea Dog Is Out of Active Service.

Incidentally He Is One of Its Richest Men.

TOOK BATTLESHIP TO HARBOR

Channel Sense Finest Piece of Seamanship Seen.

He Cut Cables in Cuba With Guns 150 Yards Away.

Washington, July 29.—Rear Admiral Cameron McKee Winslow, commander of the Pacific fleet, one of the navy's old sea dogs, retired from active service today on his sixty-third birthday—that being the statutory age for retirement.

Rear Admiral Cameron McKee Winslow, who retires from active service today.

Rear Admiral Winslow's wealth—he married a daughter of the sugar king, Havemeyer—never interfered with his service. He did a lot of work.

Included was the feat of taking the battleship New Hampshire right up to its wharf at New York, without the aid of any help but his channel sense. This, by the way, was turned by Admiral Goodrich, his superior officer. Winslow then was a captain—as the finest piece of seamanship he ever saw.

Admiral Winslow was boosted five numbers in rank when as Lieut. C. McK. Winslow he cut the cables in Cienfuegos harbor, Cuba, during the war with Spain—with the Spaniards firing from a distance of 150 yards.

In this engagement a marine was killed and nine men—including Lieut. C. McK. Winslow—wounded. Winslow was wounded in the hand. His promotion came when he was recommended for "extraordinary heroism."

Big Guns Near Him.

Winslow and his men went out in small motor launches. Winslow was in charge. With the big guns on the ships out in harbor firing at the cable office—they wrecked it before Winslow reached shore—Winslow went into the face of a Spanish bombardment. He got by with it in excellent shape—some casualties reported, but the work done.

Admiral Winslow has done a lot of sea duty. He has done some land duty, too—enough to be known to New Yorkers for his stay as supervisor of New York harbor in 1909, 1910 and 1911, and to those at Newport, R. I., when he was at the naval war college in 1904.

At the time of his retirement Winslow was a full admiral, being entitled to that rank by virtue of his command of the Pacific fleet. He served as a member of the Slocum commission when the burning of the New York excursion steamer was investigated.

Winslow was born in Washington in 1854. He was appointed to the Naval Academy by the president in 1876, and graduated in 1875.

DRYS REMAIN INACTIVE

No Hope of Getting Prohibition Legislation This Year.

Washington, July 29.—Senator Shepherd of Texas, leader of the Prohibition forces, has announced his definite decision not to push "dry" legislation at this session.

Hope of obtaining action on national Prohibition amendment was given up several weeks ago, but dry leaders had counted on being able to attach a "dry" rider to the District of Columbia appropriation bill. Adverse parliamentary rulings, however—to the effect that general legislation could not be included in an appropriation bill—convinced Shepherd, he said today, it would be useless to press such action this summer.

CRIPPLES SHRINE

Topeka Shriner Explains Result of Abdallah Fight.

Says Leavenworth Is Afraid to Increase Membership.

Leavenworth and Atchison Shriners are cutting off their noses to spite their faces, so to speak, in not permitting Topeka to have a Shrine of her own and waging a fight at the Imperial Council against granting Topeka Shriners a special dispensation. All Topeka Shriners express themselves of such an opinion.

"Abdallah Shrine at Leavenworth, should never look to Topeka for any more candidates," said a Topeka Shriner. "If they do, they will be terribly disappointed. Topeka doesn't intend to spend a day and a night going over to Leavenworth to join in the frolic and that $17,800 in certified checks of applicants to enter the Shrine displayed before the Imperial Council will never go into Abdallah's coffers."

Kill a Rich Territory.

"In short, Leavenworth and Atchison by their actions are killing one of the best Shrine territories in the country. Topeka and the towns adjoining which would be placed in the territory of a new Shrine are dead to Abdallah forever, it is declared. Then, the peculiar technicality which Leavenworth holds out as an excuse for keeping Topeka and the proposed new district in her district is not conducive to gaining new members for the Shrine. A Leavenworth paper of recent date says:

"One of the laws of the Shrine is that the membership shall not be below 1,000 and as Abdallah has only 1,500 members it will not likely have to divide its present territory."

Don't Want to Grow.

"If that's the technicality Leavenworth Shriners intend to harp on in preventing a separation, Topeka Shriners feel Leavenworth won't dare to reach out for new members and become a real live organization. Because, should Leavenworth do so, the membership will soon become so great that Abdallah can't avert a separation by such a plea."

A report of the recent meeting of the Imperial Council will be prepared for Topeka Shriners upon the return of George Stansfield and A. L. Wiseman from the east. Both were members of the committee which went before the council to request a separation.

GIVE PLOWING EXHIBIT

On July 31 Tractors Will Turn 2,000 Acres at National Demonstration.

St. Louis, Mo., July 29.—Farmers will see the latest improved farming machines in action on a 2,000 acre plot in St. Louis county for five days beginning July 31, when the National Tractor Demonstration begins. The demonstration is an educational campaign directed by the National Tractor Farming association.

Hundreds of gasoline and kerosene farming implements will plow, harrow and otherwise cultivate the land to show the farmer who is hard hit because of the scarcity of farm hands and the high price of good horses, how he can go ahead anyhow.

Morning sessions of the demonstration will be devoted to harrowing, fertilizing, pulverizing, threshing and seeding together with draw-bar and belt work. The plowing demonstrations will be held each afternoon. Between forty and fifty tractors will participate.

This demonstration will be the first of its kind in the Mississippi valley and is expected to attract thousands of agriculturists from all sections of the middle west.

STUCCO-COBBLE STONE. DESIGN NO. 19.

After all, nature's building material, that is perhaps the most commonly favored and popular, namely, cobble stones, when properly used in a design are most effective, and in this example, we have a good illustration of what can be accomplished in this direction in connection with stucco walls, the frieze above the first story windows being of shingles.

The plan of this design is most attractive in its practical arrangements, for the entire front is really one magnificent living room, and this provides for a ground floor, bedroom and private bath, but were the same not desired, the dining room could be placed where bedroom is shown, sleeping porch used as a breakfast room, and the bath room as a pantry. Then if the space now devoted to living room and hall were sufficient, dining room could be bedroom, present pantry bathroom and sun porch the sleeping porch.

There is a full basement under the entire house, with hot water heating plant, laundry, and servants' toilet, besides the usual complement of vegetable bins, etc. An outside cellar entrance is arranged at the rear of the house; and altogether this makes a thoroughly practical, complete and up-to-date home.

Total width, 40 feet; depth, 30 feet. Cost, $4,200. Plans, $30.00.
